Celebrating Life As Source
Week of January 29th

And every single time I die to something -- my notions of my own specialness, my plans and desires for something to be a very particular way -- every single time I fight it and yet every single time I discover more life and more freedom than if I had gotten what I wanted.

announcements and the video of our last social gathering; service will begin as usual at 11am. We made this decision to curtail meditation for a time because it appears that we are not reaching folks with this activity. If you have comment or feedback for us regarding this decision, we would love to hear from you. Please email stgeorgecsl@gmail.com.
Blessings to all.

Practitioners Plugged-In

Celebrating Life As Source

We have spent this month reminding ourselves of who we are, through the basics of Science of Mind. Today is our final step – and it's the most important one of all. We prepare ourselves to surrender into our life – and into this year. What if we were to surrender to Spirit/Source Itself entirely? This is what it takes to Live Out Loud! When we surrender our falsehoods, our fears, and our doubt, we free ourselves to live out loud in celebration. Every day becomes a day to celebrate the simplicity and the beauty of life itself.

Reverend Joe Kovach
Senior Minister
